

IN THE CLAIMS:

Claims 1-10 were inadvertently duplicated. Consequently please delete the first set of claims 1-10 on pages 42-46. The second set of Claims 1-10 on pages 46-51 are to remain in the case.

Please amend Claim 22 as follows:

22. (Once Amended). The computer-readable memory of Claim [12] 21, wherein the program module for encoding the error correction packets comprises a sub-module for applying a Forward Error Correction (FEC) encoding technique to each source data stream.

REMARKS

The applicant has submitted proposed changes to correct a typographical error in Figure 11. This change is fully supported by the specification. No new matter is added as a result of the change.

Claims 1-10 were inadvertently placed in the application twice. Consequently, the first set of claims 1-10 on pages 42-46 have been deleted. Claim 22 has been amended to address an incorrect dependency. Consequently, the second set of claims 1-10, as well as claims 11-30 remain in the case.

The applicant hereby respectfully requests entry of the proposed amendments and continued examination of the application as amended.

Respectfully submitted,
